Ahmad Dany, 2024, THE RELATIONSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE AND SELF-ADJUSTMENT IN FKIP ANTAU STUDENTS AT PUTRA INDONESIA UNIVERSITY YPTK PADANG.

Independence is an individual's ability to manage their own life without depending on other people. This research was conducted to determine the relationship between independence and self-adjustment in overseas students at the Faculty of Teacher Training and Education at Putra Indonesia University, YPTK Padang. The method used in this research is quantitative with the type of research being correlational, which aims to measure the relationship between independence and student adjustment. The population of this study was 48 people. The instrument used was a questionnaire distributed to overseas students. Data analysis was carried out using normality, linearity and hypothesis testing. The results of the analysis show that the calculated r-value of 0.528 is greater than the r-table of 0.308, so the hypothesis is accepted. These findings indicate that there is a positive and significant relationship between independence and self-adjustment of FKIP overseas students at Putra Indonesia University YPTK Padang.
